This was September. Everywhere the leaves of the third season were bringing the growth of spring and summer to a dramatic end. These were the days when the flames of autumn burned most brightly in a fleeting but memorable show. Even over night new richness had been added to the colors around us as we walked once more toward the school in the fall. The branches of the maples extended against the blue autumn sky; foliage in which scarlet and gold and orange intermingled. The colorful autumn stands for vigorous activity. Later in the season there would come snowy skies, brown leaves, gray autumn. But now we wandered in the multicolored early days of fall, the time of vigor and elation . . .

FOREWORD

It is with great pride that we, the Class of nineteen hundred fifty-nine present our Hi-Life.

We hope that these pages and pictures may for all time make vivid the last four years at Greenville High School, that in each page you may find concealed memories that will live on forever, and be cherished throughout the years to come.

May the seniors especially remember the events and activities they participated in during their four years of high school. May they also remember the teachers and friends who guided them over the rough spots.

We hope you will like the silhouette theme. It is our way of presenting the school year to you.

DEDICATION

MR. ARTHUR CHRISTENSEN

In appreciation for his continuous advice and encouragement, it is with great pride that we, the Hi Life staff of nineteen hundred fifty-nine, dedicate our yearbook to our advisor, Mr. Arthur Christensen.

Mastery of the Art

Practically everyone in Greenville High School takes an English course of some kind. This year 685 students out of the 689 in the top four grades are enrolled in some kind of English course. Of course, all of the 400 junior high students with whom we share the building are taking English. English is required for the 181 freshmen, the 208 sophomores, and the 140 seniors. Most of the 160 juniors find a course in communication skills that would be helpful.

Learning to Understand a Foreign Language

There are 209 students enrolled in our language program at Greenville. There are 59 in Latin I; 41 in Latin II. In popular Spanish classes there are over 85 enrolled. In addition a student may elect to learn French as 24 students did this year. More and more students are becoming interested in language study each year.

So Much Information in So Little Space

Miss Hoag, our very able librarian, has done a magnificent job with the extremely limited facilities that exist in our high school. The school library serves as an instructional supply center for all 1100 students who use this building. Student librarians help to control the tremendous amount of business that is conducted there.

In our school more students are enrolled in the mathematics program than any other field with the exception of English. There are 466 high school students taking some kind of math course this year. Most of these are optional courses taken because the student wishes to do so.

Past, Present, and Future Are Part of Today.

History tells us that the bulk of man's problems are those that he creates himself. In order that we may better understand these problems and their effect on us, 360 of us are enrolled in a social studies course of some type. This year there are 128 taking U.S. History; 169 taking U.S. Civics; and 63 are taking world history.

About 50 of our students find some time to take a subject in the art department. They study about the history and the value of art in a growingly more materialistic world. Some of them go on in a creative way to use this means of self-expression.

A Helping Hand Is Always Ready

If we can define education as something which affects behavior, it is important that education changes behavior for the better, so that society will improve and be better than without it. This places a responsibility on education which is more than book learning. In fact, many activities outside the classroom in high school bring about desirable changes in behavior. A notable example of this can be seen at athletic contests, for example. Good sportsmanship can be learned through participation in athletics either as a team member or a spectator. This trait is very valuable because good sportsmanship is popular and is necessary in successful living. Participation in student council activities, assembly programs and clubs helps teach the most important character trait: self-sacrifice for the welfare of the group. A high school graduate who has learned to be willing to sacrifice some of his own pleasure, time and money so that others may have a little easier time of it has learned his most valuable lesson.

Mr. Oliver and Mr. Stout give the needed advice in planning for college

The Office of Student Personnel Services scheduled and held 1147 student interviews. Mr. Stout and Mr. Oliver gave the following tests during the school year: ITED to 320 students; the Differential Aptitude to 208 sophomores; the SQT to 160 juniors; and the Kuder to 348 students. This office also assisted in obtaining scholarships and conducted research and surveys.

Upon entering the auditorium on the night of February 14, 1959, it was easy to see how well the theme of the Junior Senior Prom, "Young At Heart," had been carried out.

At 11:00 Mr. Morford crowned Gary Nye and Gloria Howell King and Queen of the prom. Chairmen for the prom were Junior Dale Barnes and Senior Sue Haddix.

The music of Bobbie Stevens provided for a delightful evening. All too soon the night had ended.

Basketball Marks 50th Anniversary at G.H.S.

The first basketball team at G.H.S. was organized fifty years ago this year. The players wore uniforms made by their mothers, although they purchased warmup sweaters from a firm in New Hampshire. The six sweaters, with GHS on the front, cost a total of twenty-eight dollars. The team practiced and played its games in the old Phelps Opera House, on the site of the present Silver Theatre. There was no coach, not even a rule book, and the boys practiced with a football until their basketball arrived. The charge was one dollar per night for practice, while a fee of fifteen dollars was charged for the hall on game nights. Eligibility rules were different, too. One member of the team graduated in June of 1908 but took a post-graduate course the next year and was able to play. The H LIFE of 1959 saluted the basketball team of 1909, the first one at our school, G.H.S.

Along the Cinder Path...

The track team at Greenville has been one of the strong points of the spring sports in the past. Last year they finished second in the conference and third in the regional.

Veterans that should lead the way toward the title this year include: Eric Andersen-880 yard run, Bill Luker-dashes, Rog Olsen, Ed Eriksen and Rog Sage-shot-put, Joe Sharpe-pole vault and John Peck-mile run. Coach Diehl expects the shot-put event to be his big point producer this year.

The Jackets have two youngsters who should help the squad in the future. The boys are Al Baker-high jump, and Gary Fountain-dashes.

Take Me Out to the Ballgame ...

This year the baseball team will be aiming for their third straight title. Coach Kinney will be back after a year's absence as head coach.

The Jackets will have only three returning lettermen from last year's team. They are Vince Kellogg-pitcher, Ed Mulick-infielder, and Dave Lehmkuhl-pitcher. Other promising boys include: Dale Barnes, Dick Allen, Duane Miller, Dave Rop and Dick Balcom.

The schedule for this year is as follows: Big Rapids (T), Eaton Rapids (H), Ionia (T), Rockford (T), Big Rapids (H), Belding (H), Hastings (T), St. Johns (T), Charlotte (H), and Grand Ledge (T).

Fore!

Coach Smith's golf team will be out to capture the conference championship this year. Last year the team finished third in the conference, and second in regional play. The title hopes are pinned on John Wood, who is undoubtedly the best golfer in the conference. Also, returning with Wood is Walt Jaehnig. These two boys are the only returning lettermen. Others who should help the team are Bob Balslev, Gary Scranton, Bill Crothers, Ray Tower, Dave Dalman, and Glenn House.

The schedule will include Eaton Rapids, Ionia, Belding, Hastings, St. Johns, Charlotte, and Grand Ledge.

Men of the Court...

Tennis has returned as a varsity sport at Greenville. It was revived in the 1956 season. This year's seniors were members of that first team.

Last year the team finished third in the conference scoring twenty-one points and allowing their opponents nine.

The "netters" should be a real threat in the title race this season. They have such outstanding performers as, Roger Ostrander, Gary Nye, Kent Guinnup, Erik Eriksen, and Bruce Schnepf. Roger Jones is vastly improved and will undoubtedly be a real asset to the team.

The Freshman Class

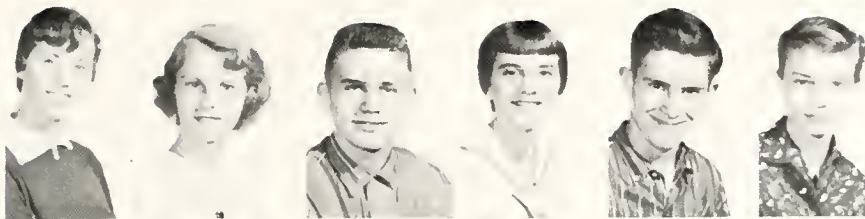

OFFICERS

President	Al Baker
Vice-President	Luana Jensen
Secretary	Kay White
Treasurer	Ann Briggs
Advisor	Mr. Budge

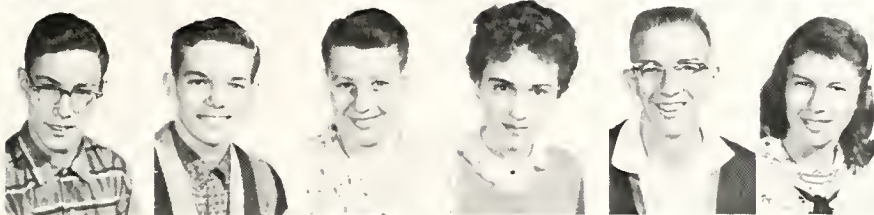

Early in September, the Freshmen dived into a hoze of new experiences. They were a good bunch of frosh, and it wasn't long until they were right at home in G.H.S.

They certainly didn't seem to be afraid of deep water, for many of their members went out for football, basketball, and the bond.

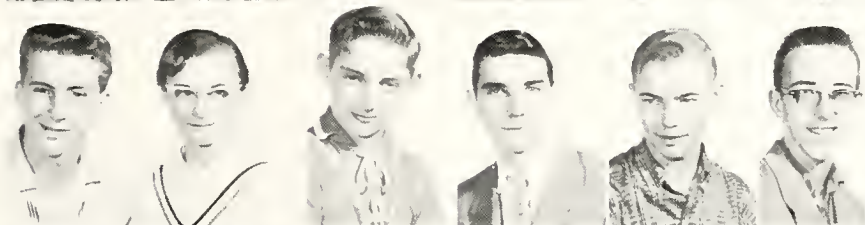

Here are our best wishes for three more successful high school years!

The Senior Class

OFFICERS

President	Gary Hansen
Vice-President	Delas Bryne
Secretary	Gloria Howell
Treasurer	Jane Walborn
Advisor	Mr. Swanton

Nineteen fifty-nine brought to the Seniors a turning point. It marked the beginning of a new experience for them as they are about to take the big step of going out into the world to be on their own.

They worked hard on the dances they sponsored, especially the Junior-Senior Prom and the Senior Dance. Two equally important events were the Senior Play and publishing the HI-LIFE.

The steps taken in putting the final touches on a fine year were the Honor Bonquet, Skip Day, Baccalaureate, and finally Commencement.

In Acknowledgement

After months of planning, preparation, and production, the 1959 Hi Life has been completed. During the year I've often wondered if it would ever be finished, the final word written and the last picture taken. For all of us, it has been a wonderful experience. I especially will cherish the memories of my last year at G.H.S.

Our staff, though small, worked hard and long. In spite of our many problems, we all had fun. Mr. Christensen, our adviser, was always there to find the right reduction size for a picture, to supply the exact word or phrase to fit the situation. To him goes much of the credit for our success. We wish to thank the Daily News, Larry Brown, Vaughn Lake and John Lincoln for taking pictures. We also wish to thank our publishing company, Edwards Brothers of Ann Arbor and the teachers of G.H.S. So ends another book . . . another year.
